A hen is said to have the capacity of laying 600 eggs and no more—a few in her first year, from 320 to 390 in the next three, and the rest from the fifth to the ninth inclusive. The true economy, therefore, is not to keep hens after their fourth year.

The Bankrupt Reporter is the title of a perodical which is soon to be established in the City of Washington, and which, as its name indicates, will chronicle all of the proceedings under the Bankrupt Act which may transpire in the North and South.

The last fashion in Paris seems to cap the climax of ridicule. It is the new form of announcing a birth: "Monsieur de X—— has the honor to inform you of his birth, which took place day before yesterday. He and his mother are as well as may be expected."

Queen Victoria has written an autograph letter to the Emperor congratulating him on the success of the Exposition, and expressing regrets that she will be unable to visit the Exposition herself with customary ceremonies; but the letter leaves it to be inferred that she will visit Paris.

Much of the article known in this country as ivory, is merely part of the shin bone of an ox. Mr. Peter Cooper contracts for the legs, between the knee and the hoof, of all the oxen killed to supply the city of New York with meat, 24,000 weekly, and the bones of the same are made up into parasol handles.

Mr. Henry Blair shot and killed a catamount, about six miles east of Lebanon, on the 11th inst., measuring five feet eight inches from the nose to the end of his hind foot, two feet high, four seven inches wide from claw to claw, and weight of the body thirty-five pounds.

Another prize fight was fought between Tom Dunn and C. Connors at Weehawken the same day. Eleven rounds were fought, Connors proving victorious.

A paragraph has been going the rounds of the papers to the effect that John Antrim, of St. Louis, has recently fallen heir to the immense estate of the Earl of Antrim, who died in Ireland a few weeks since. The St. Louis Dispatch, since the report, has climbed the family tree of the Antrims, and found that before John can get his fingers into the Earl's rich pie, about two or three hundred of his relatives, who have prior claims, will have to kindly consent to rest in the tomb. When last heard from, none of the Antrims had indicated a disposition to favor John, of St. Louis, in the small matter required.

Mr. Hoffman, Juarez's Consular agent, was compelled to leave Cuba by the Captain General. He has protested against the proceeding, and claims $100,000 from the Spanish Government.

The Nashville Gazette says: "Dave Nunn, Radical candidate for Congress from the Memphis district, refuses to stump the district in company with Leftwich. Perhaps an offer of $100 might remove his objections, as it did those of Bill Stokes. Let our Memphis friends try, by all means, the mysterious efficacy of the "almighty dollar."

Wendell Phillips, in another article in the Anti Slavery Standard, thus speaks of Jefferson Davis: "I repudiated the idea of trying him by a jury—not, however, from any doubt that he could be convicted. Take him to Lawrence, Kansas, and try him for Quantrell's murders; take him within sight of St. Albans, and set him before a Vermont jury—does any man doubt that he could be convicted? But I would no more honor him with a jury trial than I would an adder."

The Bolivar Bulletin learns from good authority, that Dr. Wm. Thompson and James Holmes, residents of McNairy, and who live just beyond the Hardeman line, have been notified, by some persons unknown, to leave for a safer locality. As the gentlemen belong to the Conservative side, it is presumed that political enemies gave the warning note. Fearing that violence might be done should they remain at their homes, they have left the county.

An Illinois farmer recently went to Indiana, commenced proceedings for a divorce, and, returning home, lived with his wife as usual. In due time he received a copy of the decree of divorce, which he put in his pocket for future use. But the wife soon heard of it from another source, and, leaving him, procured a copy of the Indiana record, and sued her husband for alimony.

The Bolivar Bulletin says that in portions of McNairy county the farmers are cutting half-ripe wheat to feed plow stock on. Corn is so scarce and high that it cannot be procured in necessary quantities; hence the necessity of feeding wheat for roughness. Along the road from Bethel to Purdy cotton and corn crops appeared only in tolerable order; nothing to brag on.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT.

Freedmen to be Appointed to the Common Council.

Letter from General Swayne.

From the Mobile Times, 13th.]

The following letter to I. I. Jones, Esq., in response to his communication published recently, declining the appointment as a member of the new Board of Common Council, is just received, and will be read with deep interest by our citizens, as indicating the policy to be pursued by the military commander of this State:

HEADQUARTERS DISTRICT OF ALABAMA,
MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 10, 1867.

I. I. Jones, Esq., Mobile, Alabama:

SIR: Your note of the 6th instant, declining re-appointment as Councilman from the Eighth Ward of the city of Mobile, is this morning received.

Your nomination in special orders No. 19, from these headquarters, was designed simply to remedy the omission of your name from the list of original appointments, and not to be in any sense compulsory. Such a necessity is happily prevented by the presence of that large class of your fellow-citizens who have heretofore been denied the right of suffrage and participation in municipal affairs, but whose patriotism will prevent them from following your example. The vacancy will be immediately filled by selection from among them.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
WAGER SWAYNE, Major General.

[We rather think the late opinion of the Attorney General will take the shortening out of that biscuit.]

ANOTHER LOYAL LEAGUE OUTRAGE.

How the Bureau Treated it.

We learn from the Nashville Banner that a strong party of Loyal Leaguers visited the house of a Mr. Roberts, on Duck river, Middle Tennessee, a few nights since, to take vengeance on him for discharging and driving off a worthless and insulting negro. He heard them coming and escaped. They rumaged the house and made terrible threats. Mr. Roberts reported to the Bureau agent. The captain of the mob, a kettle black negro, was requested to present himself. He did so with a drawn sabre, at the head of his gang. The Bureau man took the two into a room, kept them three hours, and the conference closed. The complainant came out, and "the Captain" ordered his men into line, right-faced them and moved out, arms at will. To inquiries from the parties interested as to what was done, the only answer received was that the matter was compromised, and in the language of the Bureau, was all quieted, if outsiders did not interfere to kepp it up."

Governor Pierpont and the Pardon of President Davis.

Governor Pierpont, of Virginia, in answer to a request of Paul Bagley to sign a petition for the pardon of Jefferson Davis, writes as follows:

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, June 4, 1867.

I ask for the pardon of no man who will not ask for his own pardon. God cannot pardon unless the transgressor first asks for his own pardon. Reason—Contrary to the established law of God.
F. H. PIERPOINT.
Rev. PAUL BAGLEY.

We learn from the Gazette that John Bailey employed in the Quartermaster's Department at Nashville, has been dismissed. Upon asking the reason, his chief said: "You are a rebel, and do not uphold the Government." Mr. Bailey retorted by saying that he had fought ten years for the Government, and was willing to do so again, but he was not willing to assist the Radicals in destroying it. "If this is the hight of my offence," said he, "I do not wish the situation. I am for President Johnson, served my country from the foot of the Rocky Mountains to the Florida coast." Mr. Bailey says that he served ten years in the United States Army, five years on the Indian frontier campaign, and five years in the late war. He now holds an honorable discharge, endorsed as a soldier of excellent character, by Major General R. W. Johnson, General Thomas, Major D. S. Stanley and Major Joseph Rendlebrock.

A U. S. SENATOR ELECTED BY BRIBERY.

Extraordinary Developments.

Radical Morals.

From the New Orleans Picayune of the 14th.]

Nevada is very much of a spawn of New York, and Senator Nye, himself, a New York adventurer, became barnburner, and afterwards Republican, and a factotum for managing of the wires for any party to which he was attracted by its brightening prospects. No man ever was better instructed in the way of humbugging voters, and buying and selling votes, and if there were profit on it, of selling himself and buying another. In Nevada, at the last election, he was a candidate for Senator and was elected. The charge was made on the floor of the Legislature that he had bought the seat with cash in hand. A committee of the Legislature was raised to investigate the facts, and the report of that committee has fallen into the hands of the San Francisco editor, who gives copious extracts from the testimony.

The following are specimens of the testimony, from which it is evident that other candidates were "tarred" with the same brush; they were provided with large funds with which a shameless traffic was carried on for the votes of the members:

The first witness, Robert Hannegan, testified that Robert Cullen, member from Lander county, when urged by him to go for DeLong, admitted that he had sold his vote to the Nye men for $1350, but offered to procure his colleague's, Jacobs, vote if any one would buy his, J.'s, rancho for $1500 in greenbacks. Cullen went off to see Jacobs, but returned and reported that they had stolen out of bed. He was in Nye's room. This money paid Cullen was afterwards stolen from him by one of DeLong's cappers to buy him back from Nye.

F. B. Winston testified that Seymour Pixley tried to procure his services to bribe one Bence, of Ormsby county. Outside votes for John B. Winters were worth from $3,000 to $5,000. Winters, he told him, had about $80,000 to secure his election.

The next witness proves that Nye had provided $3000 in gold for a note which he did not get.

The next witness was Gregory A. Sears, who testified that:

William N. Leet gave me a check for $300 signed by himself and drawn on Wells, Fargo & Co., of Carson city, with instructions that if Frank Proctor voted for Nye I was to turn the check over to Seymour Pixley; afterward I was instructed by the parties to draw the coin and hold it for the same purpose, which I did; afterwards I was instructed not to pay over the coin, as Proctor did not vote for Nye; I afterwards returned the coin to Wells, Fargo & Co., subject to Leet's order, I saw Leet after Proctor voted for United States Senator; he said "Proctor had broken his agreement; don't pay over the money."

A man from Storey county swore that he had an offer of a position in the Mint and $2000 in money, if he would vote for Nye. Another member testified that he had been offered $3000, and then $6000, to vote for DeLong, Nye's competitor, and so on through a series of witnesses, who all swear that they were engaged in buying and being bought to vote in the Senatorial election.

VALLANDIGHAM vs. WILSON.

Letter from the Hon. C. L. Vallandigham.

DAYTON, OHIO, June 8, 1867.

J. Withers Clay, Esq., Huntsville, Ala.:

SIR: In the speech at Huntsville, of Henry Wilson, nee Jeremiah Colbaith, as published in your paper (the Democrat) of May 31, 1867, are three deliberate falsehoods relating to myself, in just twice as many lines.

1. I am not one of those "who encouraged rebellion, said there would be no war," etc.; but just the reverse. I never expressed or held the opinion that Northern or Western Democrats would assist the South in a war for secession and independence. So far as the war was waged on the part of the South, for this purpose, she never had my sympathy. As waged by the North, I was opposed to it at every point from beginning to end, for reasons which TIME is now vindicating every day.

2. I never said that Northern troops should "march over my dead body."

3. The pretended incident related by Wilson about an Ohio regiment passing my house never had an existence, nor even a shadow of foundation.

My crime during war, was that I consistently and persistently loved and defended constitutional liberty and the Old Federal Republic throughout.

I beg your pardon and my own for condescending to notice anything from this vulgar itinerant changing. My only apology is that he is the successor of Daniel Webster in what remains of the United States Senate—and has lately "experienced religion."

Very truly, etc.,
C. L. VALLANDIGHAM.

THE BARGE QUESTION.

Reduction in the Rates of Freight.

A Meeting of Merchants and Traders.

Illustrative Statements.

We return to the consideration of the Barge question, because we are keenly alive to its eminent importance—because we perceive that other cities are availing themselves of the advantages of the bargetowing system, while Memphis remains supine, and permits the advantages she possesses to be snatched away from her by the enterprise of others. While advocating and urging this system, we wish it to be distinctly understood that we make war upon and object to no others. We stand steadily by the great steamboat interest, without which this great valley, with its teeming products, would have still remained a comparative wilderness. The benefits it has conferred are indeed incalculable, and the reciprocal feeling should be commensurate. But we must not close our eyes, in the moment of gratefulness, to the successful rivalry instituted by rival cities, in cheapening transportation, and devising the mode of transferring heavy burdens at a comparatively nominal cost.

DELAYS ARE DANGEROUS, and it behooves the merchants of Memphis to act in this matter at once. At this season, there is a lull in business, and time is not occupied, as when trade is brisk; so that there is a plenty to spare for the calm and considerate contemplation and examination of this subject. Let a meeting be called at, or by, the Chamber of Commerce, at an early day, and the matter be discussed by all interested, pro and con., so that it may be comprehended and understood in all its bearings.

THE REDUCED COST OF TRANSPORTATION

has already received attention in these columns. It has been shown that a larger amount of freight can be propelled by the same steam power, than by any other process could be conveyed through the instrumentality of steam. This, of itself, affords the most ample illustration of its capability in the reduction of freights. The statements which we shall incorporate in this article will be conclusive, however, on that point, if there be left any doubting Thomases amongst us. We have shown that ten large barges, with a tug of sufficient power to propel them, with or against the stream, capable of conveying five thousand tons, or twice that amount, can be constructed for a less sum than is ordinarily lavished on a single steamboat of one-tenth that capacity.

COAL, HAY AND GRAIN IN BULK

have long been conveyed by means of barges, until it seems the natural mode, without exciting animadversion or even remark. What is to prevent flour and cotton, or any other commodity that is shipped in quantity, being conveyed by similar conveyances? Freights must be brought to Memphis by this mode, else she will remain at a disadvantage and be compelled to defer to her more northern and more alert and enterprising neighbors. Manufactures are springing up here, and it becomes our citizens who are most interested, to avail themselves of all appliances that will place them on an equality with all competitors. It is idle to tell us that this is recurring to first principles—"the primitive days of keelboats and broad horns." We must protect our trade, and if that which has been adopted by others facilitate their operations to our detriment, we must be up with them or suffer loss.

will show whether or not we should cling to ancient usages, or enter upon more modern styles. In the olden time, barges had no tugs or towboats to propel them, but were managed by the brawny arms of the hardy boatmen. The effect of modern improvement may be judged by these tables:

Statement, showing the difference in freight between present Steamboat and proposed Barge rates from St. Louis and Memphis:

100 bbls. Flour from St. Louis to Memphis, Steamboat, 50c	$50 00
100 bbls. Flour from St. Louis to Memphis, Barge, 25	25 00
	$25 00
50 tons freight from St. Louis to Memphis, steamboat, $6 per ton	$300 00
50 tons barge, $3 per ton,	150 00
	150 00
100 barrels pork from St. Louis to Memphis, steamboat	$75 00

NO INVIDIOUS DISTINCTION

is sought to be instituted, to the disparagement of our excellent packets, in whose continued success we all feel a deep and abiding interest. They are conducted on high and honorable principles, and are worthy of the estimation in which they are held. But facts are stubborn things. If our supplies are brought here by steamboats, and St. Louis sends her freight to points below in barges, there is little margin left us for competition, and it is easily susceptible of demonstration that our trade will be swept away from us under our own eyes, and so suddenly that we shall start from our supineness like one disturbed in some pleasant dream by a midnight intruder. We, therefore, urge upon our merchants to take this matter in hand, and after due examination, place their shoulders to the wheel, that the car of our commerce may not be rendered a permanent institution instead of gliding on smoothly and prosperously.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Young Lady Returning to her Country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the city, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, flushed face, she had a soft ruby complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty-three, she really appeared but eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she used the Circassian Balm, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any lady's toilet. By its use any lady or gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, as nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying, the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. EDITORIAL

The Pen is Mightier than the Sword

THURSDAY, : : : : : : : : : JUNE 20, 1867

THERE is a low lived whelp in Mississippi by the name of R. W. FLOURNOY, who deserves to be gibbeted with the contempt of the people. The public press of Mississippi are celebrating the deeds of this poor devil, who may be regarded as a fair sample of those Radicals who once espoused the Confederate cause. New converts are always noisy, and, of course, such creatures as ORR and FLOURNOY are bitter and vindictive. To show what a dirty dog FLOURNOY is, we give a short sketch of his career in Mississippi. A few weeks since General ORD, commanding the Fourth Military District, issued an order advising all freedmen against taking any part in political matters. This order greatly outraged R. W. FLOURNOY, of Pontotoc, who wrote to Secretary STANTON and General GRANT, asking that General ORD be required either to modify the order or that he be removed, so as to give the position to one more just to all classes. Mr. FLOURNOY wrote a long letter to General ORD, telling him that it was absolutely necessary to secure both the peace and loyalty of Mississippi that a branch of the Republican party should be organized. General ORD returns this letter with the indorsement that he holds the opinion that the most important duty devolving upon freedmen is that they provide by their own labor for their support, and that he cannot see that this opinion can be construed to the benefit of rebels or Union men; to prevent poverty and starvation among the masses the soil must be tilled. Part three of General Order No. 5 means this and this only, and has no political bearing whatever, as the General commanding has no connection with political parties. He will neither prevent nor assist party organizations. The course of General ORD is worthy of commendation. He was actuated solely by a desire to prevent poverty and starvation. But FLOURNOY, like the Radical party in this city, cared nothing for the future welfare of the negro so he can use him in building up a Radical party. And now, to show what sort of creature this man FLOURNOY is—this new born champion of the negro, we have only to refer to the proceedings of the Mississippi Convention that voted the State out of the Union. The following is the vote on the ordinance of secession:

Ayes—Mr. President, Alcorn, Anderson, Aldridge, Barksdale, Baldwin, Backstrom, Booth, Brantly, Brooke, Benton, Beene, Berry, Boling, Bookter, Clayton of Marshall, Clayton of Lowndes, Catchings, Chalmers, Chibert, Clapp, O. Davis, J. S. Davis, Deason, Denson, Douglas, Dyer, Deason, Eckford, Edwards, Elliott, Fizer, Flournoy, Fontaine, George, Glenn, Gibson, Gwinn, Harris, Herring, Hill, Holt, Isom, Johnson of DeSoto, Johnson of Jefferson, Jones, Keirn, Keith, Kennedy, King, Lea, Lamar, Lowers, Lewis, Mason, McGehee of Panola, Miller of Pontotoc, Miller of Tunica, Neely, Nelson, Orr, Pattison, Powell of Covington, Ramsey, Roberts, Rogers, Semmes, Smart, Summes, Stevens, Terrall, Tison, Taylor, Thompson, Vaughan, Walter, Welsh, Witty, Wilkinson, Woods, Wright—84.

Nays—Blair, Bonds, Bullard, Cummings, Farrar, Hurst, Myers, Marshall, Parker, Reynolds, Sanders, Thornton, Winchester, Yerger, Young—15.

FLOURNOY voted against every proposition in the Convention of a conciliatory character. In abusing the North he grew wild with rage. His hair stood on end. His fingers were wide distended and he frothed at the mouth like a dog with the hydrophobia. He rushed frantically to the field of battle. He raised a company, went to Virginia, but for dishonorable conduct was requested to resign. He procured a divorce from his wife in Georgia, and soon afterwards married his wife's neice. This is one of the infamous gang who are now crying out for confiscation and for organizing a Radical party in Mississippi. The impudence of this man is sublime. The people of Mississippi will drive the rascal out of the State, provided he can be moved by the concentrated scorn of the men he once betrayed, and whom he now proposes to persecute.

SOLON, when crossed, used to give a "great stroke with his stick upon the ground," and the SOLON of the Appeal seems disposed to imitate this example. Our neighbor has somehow or other got the impression that he has secured a copyright to history, and every time we infringe upon his patent, he strikes his batton across his editorial desk, in imitation of the Athenian lawgiver, or rather like the mountaineer, beating the head off a huge rattle snake. History is often repeating itself, and that is what makes us say that "the Past the Great Teacher;" but to prove this we do not propose to lumber our columns with classic lore. But our neighbor is not only a "Teacher," but he has turned proof reader. He hunts for typographical errors in our local columns, as well as in our editorial articles. This is certainly a small business in "the Past, the great Teacher." Since our neighbor has commenced playing the schoolmaster by instructing us in the mysteries of certain classic names, which, through the fallability of type-setting, were not etymologically printed, we are obliged for his condescension, but do not think it worth while to avail ourselves of similar negligence in proof reading which occasionally victimizes him; we may however express our unfeigned surprise, that while he was teaching "the young idea how to shoot," he did not comprehend the rule that requires "neither" to be followed by "nor," instead of "or," as he invariably and inelegantly adopts.

IT is the duty of the public press to encourage every thing that tends to ameliorate the condition of the human family. We pause for a few moments in the discussion of politics, and turn to a subject which we regard as of great importance. We allude to the subject of Life Insurance, which of late years has attracted much interest. This is a matter with which the public have not been made so fully acquainted as its importance really demands. The advantages it offers are so apparent, the plan of operation so simple, the good it offers so obvious, that it seems to us a more familiar acquaintance with its objects and aims would induce every one to avail themselves of the benefits it proposes to secure to them. Dr. BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, who was invariably sound and philosophical in his opinions upon subjects of this nature, speaks in the warmest terms of commendation of Life Insurance. He says:

> "My object is to call attention to the fact that a policy of Life Insurance is the cheapest and safest mode of making a certain provision for one's family."

No one will call in question the fact that heads of families are under the highest and strongest obligations to provide for their families during life; but it is a moral duty also to make such provision for them, if possible, that the death of the husband and father shall not leave their households penniless, helpless and dependent. Many fathers struggle for years to obtain a safeguard for their children against the ills of poverty when they shall be deprived of his supporting arm. Life Insurance affords them a safe, sound, reliable means of effecting this desirable end. The subscription of a few dollars a year will secure every family against want and distress, should the head be taken suddenly from them. This is a matter of momentous importance. It concerns every member of the community in which we live. Every father, and every family are interested in this subject. For the expenditure of a comparatively trifling sum, which can be saved easily out of extras and superfluities, every family can be secured against the perils of poverty, and all its attendant woes, if the parent should be unfortunate, and happen to die insolvent. Insurance against loss by fire is pretty thoroughly understood, and its paramount advantages universally acknowledged. Few fail to secure their property against loss by this destructive element, and yet, if the subject was properly understood, the necessity and utility of Life Insurance would be far the greatest of the two. Remember that for a few pence each week, you can obtain a policy which will entitle your heirs to a competency—your widow to a home. You secure a safe, certain sinking fund for your children. If you would guard those you love from a thousand contingencies which may possibly happen after your decease, secure a policy on your life before you are a week older. We have been led to this train of reasoning, by a conversation held with a friend, a few days since, in which he narrated a moving incident, showing the great importance and utility of "Life Insurance," by which a helpless widow and her little ones were saved from penury and want, and placed in comfortable circumstances. Although such are the every day results of this beneficent system, so unobtrusive and unostentatious are its charities, that they rarely reach the ears of the outer world. Of so great importance do we consider this subject, that we hesitate not in expressing our belief, that it is the imperative duty of every man and woman having a family, or others dependent on them, to have a "Policy of Life Insurance" laid away in some safe place. We do not write this in the interest of any Company. We are prompted solely by a desire to admonish parents and husbands of their duty to their families. We can truthfully say, however, that no city in the Union can boast of safer and more honorable institutions of this character than Memphis. Seek out some one of them and secure to your families the great advantages they offer.

Charles Lampkin, the individual who made such a fearful leap from a Hudson River railroad train some days ago, and was supposed to have met instant death in consequence, is at present alive and well in Stockport. He says that he had $3,000 in money with him, but there were thieves on the train who wanted to kill and rob him, and he thought it less risk to jump overboard than remain with them.

Fire-Marshal Blackburn, of Philadelphia, reports a total of 594 fires in that city last year; losses, $3,192,987; insurance, $1,975,855. The Marshal says: "From the records which I have kept, and statistics collected by me from the most reliable sources, I estimate the total loss by burning in the United States at not less than $50,000,000 for 1864; $75,000,000 for 1865; and $100,000,000 for 1866. The aggregate loss in New York city, alone, last year, reached $10,000,000."

Letters from North Platte represent the Indian scare as subsiding.

The Louisville Board of Trade have petitioned for a removal of the tax on cotton.

A whole colored congregation, including pastor and deacons, has left Macon, Georgia, for Liberia.

Archduchess Matilda, daughter of Archduke Charles, died at Vienna on the 6th, from the effects of burns recently received.

A. T. Stewart, the merchant, Bierstadt, the artist, and Maggie Mitchell, the actress, sailed for Europe yesterday.

George W. Ryley, a merchant of Boston, was killed by being thrown from his carriage a few days ago. His life was insured for $30,000.

Ex-President Buchanan contributed $200 to the Southern relief fund recently raised in Philadelphia. The money was sent to the Rev. Dr. Boardman.

The Waverley House, in St. Joseph, Missouri, was struck by lightning Sunday night. The chimneys were knocked down and the floors torn up. Many of the inmates were badly stunned, though none were fatally injured.

Savannah has the second rank as a cotton port along the whole coast. She has surpassed Mobile the last season by nine thousand bales in receipts, and has received one hundred thousand bales more than Charleston.

A boy about to shoot a bird, in the neighborhood of Carrollton, Pennsylvania, last Saturday, missed his aim and shot a Catholic priest named McGovern. A painful though not dangerous wound was inflicted.

General LeGendre, United States Consul at Amoy, China, has sentenced an American citizen to a year's imprisonment and $1,000 fine for being in the coolie shipping business. This is decidedly rich.

On the body of the unknown man found drowned in the river at Newark, New Jersey, last week, one or two valuable articles were found, including a prayer in German, to preserve the bearer from death by fire or water.

The Cabinet held a special session on Monday. It is stated on authority that it was decided to restore the civil officers removed in the Southern States, contrary to law. The dispatch says they will be restored by an executive order, which was to have been issued yesterday.

The Nashville Union and Dispatch says Mr. Brownlow is in Knoxville editing the Whig, and Governor Fletcher has gone off on an electioneering tour, to be absent several days. Citizens of the State having business with the Governor, will find both the ostensible and real in East Tennessee.

About four o'clock Monday morning a well known citizen of Cincinnati, named Britton Ross, left his house and went to the river and drowned himself, leaving his hat and boots on the river bank. He recently lost $5,000 by the failure of a banking house, since which he has been in much distress.

The Jackson (West Tennessee) Whig of Saturday says: Throughout the country the hearts of the farmers are made glad by the prospect of most bountiful crops; the cereals are looking finely, and the cotton, under the influence of occasional showers and the warm sun, exhibits a most favorable appearance, and, with no unforeseen disaster, fine yields may be anticipated.

R. H. Glass, editor of the Lynchburg Republican, was shot in the street at Lynchburg, Monday, by the sons of D. E. Brooker, in consequence of an article reflecting on their father. The shot took effect in the eye, the ball entering the head. Mr. Glass was comfortable in the evening, but the result of his wound is as yet uncertain.

Wade's Senatorial party passed through Peoria, Illinois, Monday, en route to their homes. Of fourteen Senators who have been with the party at various points, all expressed their intention of being present at the July session, and those who are still with Mr. Wade to-day joined him in a telegram to General Schenck, of the National Union Congressional committee, Washington, to advise all Republican members to be present in July, that all obstructions to the legal reconstruction of the rebel States may be removed.

Galignani's Messenger of the 7th inst. describes the visit of the Czar to the Exposition on the 5th. He also accompanied Napoleon to the Hotel Des Invalides, and the tomb of Napoleon I. It also gives an account of the ceremonies of the reception of the King of Prussia and suite, including Bismarck and General Maltke. There was some little cheering outside the railroad station, but along the line of march very little manifestation toward the King was accorded.

The Juarez Generals, Henojosa and Paron, attacked Fort Iturbide. The small garrison shouted the war cry of "Viva Santa Anna!" "Viva la Republica!" repulsing the party, killing a large number, and causing the rest to fly defeated. Juarez went to Perneo, where he remained awaiting reinforcements from Queretaro, which were expected to reach there by the 20th.

TWO RADICALS HAVE A RENCONTER.

General Jim Brownlow vs. D. H. Mason.

Referring to the affair of which we give an account on our first side of the scene during the speech of D. H. Mason, an independent Radical for Congress, the Nashville Banner of Tuesday says:

General James P. Brownlow was in the crowd, and, without being called, voluntarily took the stand and called the attention of the voters to the fact that Mason had been in the rebel army, and was a deserter and renegade, and could not be relied on for anything. He was deceiving, or attempting to deceive the ignorant, by appeals to their cupidity, and that the crowd need not trust him for anything. Mason here asked Brownlow's authority for stating that he had been in the rebel army. Brownlow said he stated it on his own authority—and appealed to the crowd to say if Mason's face didn't look mean enough for desertion or anything else. Mason here got up and started for the speaker, when the latter took up a pitcher for the purpose of wetting Mason's curls and drawing his profile, when he promptly and prudently retired, exclaiming "tut, tut, did you ever hear such a speech?" The meeting was stormy, and the more intelligent of the colored men were thoroughly disgusted.

Only The Rich.

Mr. Thad. Stevens has written a letter to a citizen of Dadeville, Alabama, on the subject of confiscation. We don't know what he means by confiscating men; we have always thought it was property he was after:

LANCASTER, May 21, 1867.

DEAR SIR: We do not confiscate loyal men, nor rebels unless they are rich; few will suffer, not enough I fear; some innocent men will I fear. THADDEUS STEVENS.

An attempt was made at Vicksburg, on the night of the 4th, to kill the watchman, named Henry Williams, of a saw mill below that city. He was struck on the head with a hatchet, and half stunned and dragged into the river, but holding on to his assassin was preserved by his fears until persons appearing, the latter released his hold and let the watchman go, and ran away.

Mr. BAUGH was a brother of our late honored and esteemed Mayor, Richard D. Baugh, Esq. Honest and faithful in all the walks of life, Mr. Baugh was universally esteemed and respected by all who knew him. Among the first who volunteered in the service of his native State, he stood throughout the trying struggle of the Confederate States firm and true to the last and most bitter end. HOMESTEAD LANDS

FOR SALE.

WE have the pleasure of placing on the market these very desirable and valuable lands, so well known to the community as the Homestead Tract of the late Geraldus Buntyn, Esq., situated at the first station on the Memphis and Charleston railroad, five miles east of the city. The improvements, with about twenty acres of land, have been recently sold to Home F. Hill, Esq., who now resides upon the premises. The balance of the tract, consisting of about 400 acres, has been laid off in lots varying in size from five to ten acres, fronting upon broad avenues, and laid off so as to secure the greatest amount of comfort and convenience. The trains of the Memphis and Charleston railroad afford the opportunity of going in and out of the city, from and to Buntyn's Station, four times a day, so as to make a residence at this point almost as convenient as to live in the city itself.

The choice can now be had of lots wholly or part in original forest, or in field.

IN EXCHANGE FOR CITY PROPERTY.

The executors are directed by the will to sell this place and invest in city property, and we will receive propositions to exchange for either improved or vacant lots in the city.

To all parties looking for a suburban residence, we do not think any property more desirable can be found, in regard to health, convenience or good neighborhood, within the same distance from the city.

The terms will be made very liberal and easy, and the prices low to parties desirous of buying for occupation.

Plans of the subdivisions will be shown at our office.

LA SALLETTE ACADEMY.—There is no institution in Memphis for the education of young ladies that has a higher reputation, or that deserves to have such, than the La Sallette Academy. Its course of instruction is thorough, embracing both solid acquirements and fashionable accomplishments, and its teachers have that care, art and enthusiasm which inspires children with a desire to become scholars. Doubtless the young men will solve a question that has been agitating the public mind a good deal of late. This exhibition is sure to be interesting, and a good audience should greet the young gentlemen. Admission free to everybody.

A BIG SALE OF EXPRESS GOODS—GREAT CHANCES FOR BARGAINS.—Attention is directed to the great sale of Express boxes and packages. None of these boxes have been opened. What they contain is a mystery. Many of them may have most valuable contents. The Express Company makes a great clearing out sale. Trunks, probably full of wearing apparel; boxes, containing jewelry; bundles of silks and laces—all the waifs of a business whose extent is wide as the continent, and amounts to many millions of dollars every month will be struck off to the highest bidders. At these sales, men for a dollar or two have got cases of revolvers, boxes of watches and bundles of valuable dry goods. It is a lottery where many get prizes, and where there is no speculation in the management. It is a rare chance for bargains, and we expect to see it well attended.

Twenty-five thousand dollars' worth of damaged dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes, etc., must be sold within thirty days, regardless of cost or value, at M. Kraus & Co.'s, No. 213 Main street, next to Ward & LeGuere's drug store. Country merchants, citizens and planters attend this great closing out sale to secure great bargains. tf

WARNING TO WIDOWERS.

Marrying in Haste and Repenting at Leisure.

Mr. Marshall is a respectable middle aged widower. He is a builder. Like other middle aged widowers he has been exceedingly anxious to find another wife. He wanted a good one, who, with the virtues common to womanhood, had a share of this world's goods. At last he he found the pearl for which he had been seeking. She was a widow Danny, fair, bright eyed and sharp featured. She had a house and lot. Marshall could build another house on the rear of the lot, and it could be profitably rented. He got the lumber and placed it on the rear of the lot. Last Friday Marshall and the widow were married by 'Squire Lee, one of the County Commissioners giving away the blushing bride. The happy pair felt themselves in elysium. The hours flew by on angel's wings. They feasted and with their friends made merry. Nothing marred their joy, and on Saturday morning they slept late. In fact it was almost noon when they were startled by a harsh knock at the front door, and the effort of somebody to get in. The widow sprang from the arms of Marshall and hurried to the front door. A husband who had been at Nashville, and whose existence had been forgotten entered. She grasped him round the neck to restrain his anger, which would otherwise have made short work with Marshall. The husband struggled to get loose. The widow called to Marshall to run for it. Taking the hint that he was no longer wanted, Marshall sprang out of bed. In haste he donned his unmentionables, vest, coat, boots and hat, and then picking up his trunk that he had taken there the day before, Marshall made a very quick and masterly retreat. How the widow explained it to her husband is unknown, but he stayed, and Marshall didn't go back, and as his project of building another house on the rear of the lot is no longer practicable, he is seeking the aid of Sheriff Winters to enable him to get his lumber away. He says when he marries another widow he will make sure that her first husband has been put away safely in a graveyard, for it's confounded uncomfortable to have a fellow rushing in the front door and having to rush out the back door with a trunk upon one's shoulder, not to speak of the kind of wife she still is to both of them.

A BURST UP IN LINCOLN COUNCIL.

A Great Row—Mutual Recriminations—Charges of Rascality.

Withdrawal of Members.

The Eaton-Lewis faction of the Brownlowites have tried to make the public suppose that the reports in the AVALANCHE have been erroneous, and that there was really no split in Lincoln Council; no feud between the Hunter men and the Barbour Lewis men; no charges of rascality; no dissatisfaction at the nomination of Eaton; no disgust at rascality suggested in the Council; but they will find it hard to satisfy the public of this since over fifty men, on the last night of the meeting of Lincoln Council, withdrew, and now publicly declare that they don't mean to have anything more to do with an institution so utterly corrupt, nor have association with rascals so shameless and devoid of moral principle as the men who control the Loyal League. They had a high old time on the night of the break up; charged each other with being unprincipled, with revealing the proceedings, with hiring blacks to override meetings, and with all sorts of meannesses. The neighbors living within a block of Hickman building were annoyed by the fracas which ended in the withdrawal of many. The Lincoln Council is now in the hands of the Barbour Lewis section of the forty thieves, and decent men are not likely to be inveigled into companionship with them. If the shelling off goes on much longer Lincoln Council can dispense with its present big hall and meet in a private room. Why can't the managers have the meetings then in Kate Stoner's building?

THE CUMBERLAND CHURCH FESTIVAL.

The Most Recherche Affair of the Season.

The basement of the Court street Cumberland Presbyterian church has been so very elegantly fitted up, and is so pervaded with graceful courtesy and high bred, lady like manners, that it may well attract crowds of the leading people of the city. It is not a costly entertainment. It makes no alarming appeals to the pockets of visitors. If they spend a trifle for refreshments, that is all that is asked—that is all that is needed to aid one of the most generous and devoted churches in the city.

Mrs. B. B. Waddell, in behalf of the Overton Hotel, sent yesterday to the festival a magnificent cake. August Berton sent one, the elegance of which speaks well for his artistic taste and skill. There is no lack of cakes and sherbet and ice cream and berries, and they are not only dispensed in the evenings, but also between ten a.m. and two p.m. every day.

The festival will close on Friday night with a Sunday school picnic, the children being admitted free, and the parents and friends sending in donations on Friday.

It was gratifying that there was a good attendance last evening, and we hope that it will grow. It should do so. The crowds of pretty girls should have a beau apiece.

THE DELIGHTFUL ASBURY FESTIVAL.

The Tasteful Entertainment at Stillman Hall.

The festival in Stillman Hall still grows in favor. It is so nicely gotten up. There is so much taste in the arrangements, so much elegance in the fixing of the tables, so much lady like courtesy in the fair patronesses of the affair, that it should be crowded nightly. No Methodist fair has ever been more worthy of countenance. The prizes are rich, numerous and varied, appealing to different influential classes. The more quiet but not less attractive features of the fair should induce all youths and maidens to drop in to spend an hour pleasantly.

The beautiful fan for the most popular young lady in attendance at the festival was voted last night to Miss Mollie Price.

A very elegant silver pitcher, salver and two goblets will be voted to the most popular mechanic. This is the first recognition at any festival of the claims of the working classes.

The growing attendance at the Asbury festival is gratifying. It speaks well for the taste and good feeling of our citizens. It is a just tribute to a good cause, and to the generous efforts of women who are an honor to Memphis.

HOW LOYAL THE RADICAL CANDIDATE ONCE WAS.

General Bombastes Smith Wanted to Slaughter Federal Prisoners.

An old and respectable citizen of Memphis states that when the Federal army under General Prentiss was defeated, and many prisoners were brought to this city, they were kept under guard at the City Hall buildings. He says there was much excitement about the streets, and he was going homeward, when turning the corner of Jefferson street, he ran upon little W. J. Smith, now General Smith, who is the candidate of the persecute-everybody-who-aint-loyal-enough party. Smith was in a fever of excitement, and carried a big saber in his hand. "Where are you going?" inquired the gentleman. "This," said Smith, "is the saber that I carried in Mexico, and I am now going up to guard them G—d— Yankee s—of b—'s, and if they fool with me, I'll give it to them. I'd like to see the very last one of them have his head cut off." The gentleman left him impressed with the ferocious hatred of Smith to Yankees. The words given may not have been the exact words used, but it is believed they were. Whether they were or not, they fall short, rather than over color Smith's vindictiveness. The gentleman has still a memorandum that he made at the time of the conversation. This was before the rebel flag was put up at Smith's place of business; it was before the rebel flag was put up at his residence. It was when he was inducing those men to enter the rebel army, whom he now wants to ostracise, and degrade for following his advice.

GEO. W. VAN VOST,
Southern Agent,
20 Jefferson street and 21 Gayoso street.

A NEW FEATURE OF SANITARY INSPECTION.—A gentleman who leases certain dwellings in the lower part of the city, but has not for a long time, owing to the stringency of the times, been able to collect any rent, was called on yesterday by a representative of the police department, who told him that he must mend the roofs of his houses, as they leaked. The gentleman demurred to the order as impertinent. He didn't see that having roofs repaired was any part of police duty, whereupon the policeman threatened that if the roofs were not mended the sanitary squad should turn the inmates out of the houses, and, shutting up the place, prevent anybody from living in it. The gentleman will not, on compulsion, either mend his roofs, or repaint the front door, or put up lightning rods, and he waits the effort of the police to compel him to comply with the arrogant demand. They could compel him to remove filth or abate a nuisance, but even a Brownlow court will scarcely assert that it is part of police duty to order the repair of roofs.

THE RADICAL CANDIDATE AS A WARRIOR.

How He Was Not Allowed to Steal.

Some soldiers who belonged to the Ninth Illinois cavalry know all about little W. J. Smith, the Radical candidate for State Senator, and some of their recollections of the man are so characteristic of the little whelp that they merit mention.

At the battles of Wyatt and Ripley there were two Federal brigades, which, on their return, parted company at Coldwater. The sixth Tennessee cavalry, commanded by little W. J. Smith, brought up the rear of one of these brigades, and it was a peremptory order to enforce which was the special duty of Smith's command, that the men should not be allowed to leave column on the march, and should not be allowed to plunder, but Smith was too fond of seizing whatever he could lay his hands on to enforce discipline on his men, and it would be difficult to say whether Smith or his men were most eager to make all they could. When they got to Mount Pleasant the commander who was, if we mistake not, Colonel Hatch, found that Smith had fifteen or more carriages filled with plunder, and was carrying off bed quilts, wearing apparel, carpets, feather beds, and every thing that his family or friends could use for years. The commander was indignant. He felt that Smith should be cashiered for such mercenary infractions of orders, but he considered that perhaps the best way to punish his cupidity would be to compel him to abandon his ill gotten gains. He sent his Adjutant to Smith with an order that the fifteen or more carriages filled with plunder should be turned into the field of a Mrs. Benton, the horses unhitched, and the carriages and their stolen contents left there to be reclaimed by rightful owners. When the adjutant delivered the order to Smith there was a high time. Smith protested, implored and threatened. He didn't know what right any one had to issue such an order. He regarded it as wrong. He wanted at least to be allowed to take along one carriage and its contents, which were perhaps particularly valuable. The adjutant told him the order was to leave all the carriages. Smith said "that one of the carriages was his own—he had confiscated it and what was in it." The adjutant said the order was peremptory, and greatly to his regret Smith had to obey. He has never since believed that his commanders were quite as loyal as himself. This miserable camp follower, picking up bed quilts, clothing and carriages, and hating terribly to have to give them up to their owners, is the model Brownlow candidate for State Senator.

If any one doubts the foregoing statement, let them ask any of the officers of the Ninth Illinois or any officers who served under Colonel Hatch, and they will find that we have not colored the statement, and that Smith acted shamefully. No wonder Smith favors the Brownlow Indemnity Tax bill.

ITEMITAS.

Judge Leonard has been quite unwell.

Pat Foley was caught at Holly Springs by fellows who chased him and got back the mule.

A Mr. Carter reported yesterday that his pocket had been picked of $100.

The Grace Church Sunday School had a pleasant picnic on the Vance street grounds yesterday.

☞ Don't forget that the concert of La Sallette Academy comes off on Friday night, at Greenlaw Hall.

Would it not be advantageous to put the stone pavement on Front Row down on sand and tarred boards?

A stout black boy was brought before 'Squire Black yesterday for attempting an outrage on a little mulatto girl about six years of age.

The Eagle and Confederate base ball clubs played a match yesterday, and the former were victorious.

A large fire occurred on Poplar street on Tuesday night, and the house of Mrs. Houston was damaged to the amount of $3000.

Eddy Mills is charged with stealing groceries from Elliot & Co., and Mike Huligan with stealing $1000 from a drover named Hendricks.

James Chapman and Pat Thomas were found in possession of a barrel of whisky that had been stolen from Dan Able & Co.

There was a spirited fistic exhibition in front of the Commercial Hotel on Tuesday. J. S. eckhered J. J., some.

The new railroad time tables will, it is supposed, make through from here to New York in fifty-seven hours.

Judge Hunter is to deliver an oration at a celebration of July 4th, and decorating the graves of Union soldiers, that is to come off at the National Cemetery.

We tender our thanks to Huette & Co., corner of Main and Monroe streets, for their kind invitation to partake of soda water from their new Polar fountain. We doubt not it is of the first quality.

The base ball clubs "Pride of the South" and "Mechanics" played a match on Tuesday, and the "Mechanics" were defeated. We regard the "Mechanics" as one of the best clubs in Memphis, but they have not been unlucky recently.

The grand tableaux at the New Memphis Theatre, under the direction of Mrs. Thompson, for the benefit of Southern widows and orphans, will come off on next Wednesday evening.

It is reported that parties having the cash are making arrangements to start an old line Whig paper here, in the course of two or three weeks, and have secured the services of a very able leading editor.

A train on the Memphis and Ohio railroad goes out to Humboldt at six o'clock this morning, and another at eight o'clock. It is expected that a good many persons will go out to hear Mr. Etheridge.

N. E. Scott, Esq., the genial and gentlemanly General Southern Agent of the Pennsylvania Central railroad, left last evening for New Orleans, where he will remain about a week, and then return here by way of Mobile.

Many complaints are made of the shamefully bad conduct of the colored inmates of Allen's block, on the corner of Hernando and Vance streets. They greatly annoy passers by and disturb the peace. Can't the police do something about it before election?

There have been quite a number of deaths from diarrhea. This need not be. If persons will only wear red flannel all the year round they will have little trouble with diarrhea, which is an effort of nature to throw off disease. During the war soldiers who wore red flannel all the time were not half as much troubled with disease as others were who didn't wear it.

An ex-grand juror says: "An article in the AVALANCHE saying that the grand jury, at the July term of the Criminal Court, were too Radical to return a bill of indictment against Judge Leonard, does injustice to several very excellent gentlemen who were members of that body. It is now known that there were but two of that body who refused to find the bill."

The concert at St. Agnes Academy last night was a great success. So great was the crowd that it was impossible to get into the hall after eight o'clock. The singing and other exercises did honor to that excellent educational institution.

Owing to the pressure upon our columns we are compelled to omit an extended notice of the exercises, which we will publish to-morrow.

From the fact that Hepburn has a home either here or in Iowa when there is a chance for office, and that little Smith lives either in Hardeman or Memphis, and that the domicile of a good many Memphis Brownlowites are exceedingly uncertain, it would not surprise us if the Radicals should urge the Legislature to change the names of sundry offices to that which Richards now cultivates. There should be half a dozen Floaters to accommodate Radical aspirants.

B. F. C. Brooks, Esq., the independent Radical candidate for the Legislature, is certainly more liberal than the nominees of the dark lantern cabal. He has given a good many colored people a new idea, and they take to it kindly. It is that any Southern white who pays five dollars a year of school tax, from which white and colored children are to be educated, proves his desire for the future prosperity of the country and the advancement of the colored people so fully thereby, that he should have the same right to vote that a colored man has.

Manager Thompson, of the New Memphis Theater, will leave to-day for the great cities of the North and East to make arrangements for securing an array of theatrical talent during the next dramatic season. Mr. Thompson is a worthy gentleman and a most efficient manager, who, last season, brought to Memphis nearly all the best actors in the country, and would furnish an unrivaled series of entertainments if public taste was up to that standard. The public insist on having a considerable proportion of the bare legged school of stars, but Mr. Thompson is an excellent caterer, and will bring out first class talent.

The reverend John Eaton, jr., was the lucky winner of two of the prizes at the recent drawing of the Hernando lottery. What a pity that every clergyman cannot be so fortunate. Perhaps it may come to that by and by. When it does, Brother Bliss will say to the venerable Dr. White, "I have won $1,000 in the Kentucky State Lottery;" and the Rev. Dr. White will say, "I have a ticket in the big scheme of the Havana lottery;" and Rev. Dr. Ford will complain of a head ache from playing keno all night; and the Rev. Mr. Miller will have a share in the Senate; and the Rev. Mr. Graves be the winner of a big bet on a horse race. It will be some time before all our clergymen are thus. Mr. Eaton is in advance of public opinion, and means to be so. He is the representative of Northern Radical piety.

A respectable colored man called on a Second street merchant yesterday, and wanted advice. He said "he had done gone and joined dese sieties, and now he was tied up wid oaths an devilment an it didn't suit him, and he wanted to know how he was to get out of it."

Merchant—Don't white men quit it? Don't they just walk off and have no more to do with it? Ain't you a free man now? Why can't you quit it just as a white man does when he don't like it?

Colored Man—I spect dey swar us wusser an white men?

Merchant—They can't do anything with you if you quit?

Colored Man—Den I leaves it mighty quick. I don't want to have trouble wid Southern people. I don't want to press dem no how.

With this the colored man left to quit de siety, and tell his companions that there was no danger in their imitating his example.

CRIMINAL COURT.—The Grand Jury returned a voluminous bill of indictment for embezzlement of county funds against Thomas Leonard, late County Judge. This legal document covers sixteen pages of legal cap paper. It bids fair to be the sensational case of the Criminal Court, and will no doubt call forth all the erudition and eloquence of the criminal bar of the city. Another noted case is the indictment against James E. Richardson for perjury, growing out of a complex Chancery cause, with as many ramifications as the famous one of Jarnagan vs. Jarnagan, reported by Dickens. These cases will probably be reached during the present term. The case of George B. Wade occupied the attention of the Court yesterday. Seven jurors were secured. The pannel will be filled up this morning and the trial proceeded with. The cases for to-day are—

State vs. George B. Wade, larceny, etc.
State vs. M. Combs, jr., rape.

A SPLENDID ESTABLISHMENT.

Memphis Enterprise.

A House for Home Patronage.

There is an old saying that "when you get a good thing save it," and the rule under which the aphorism should hold good, survives the waste of years and the abrasion of use.

"The evil that men do lives after them,
The good is oft interred with their bones," and amidst the general demoralization which hangs like a pall over every part of what was once our country, it is like an oasis in the desert to eyes already growing dim with the arid sterility of burning sands, to have a place among us that will and can well out as a spring with healthful waters and shaded by palms.

THE HOUSE OF JO. BANFILL & CO.,

who are pursuing the avocation of rectifiers and dealers in domestic and foreign liquors, bar stores and manufacturers of

is one of those industrial and augmenting interests that bring wealth and accumulate profits from the fact of articles passing only through first hands. This house imports its foreign brands directly to itself, and is capable of selling on the very cheapest and most desirable terms. Their establishment, No. 3 Bradley block, is filled with the choicest liquors and wines, as well as their own manufactured and highly flavored article of "Imperial Bitters."

THE PRINCIPALS OF THIS HOUSE

are well known citizens, including the senior partner, our old friend, Jo. Banfill, of Slocum's Washington Artillery, of the Fifth Corps, who is ably seconded by Dan. Able, whom everybody knows, and R. P. Bolling, one of our most popular Aldermen, and W. H. Turley, late of East Tennessee. The following brands are warranted by them, and surely they include such variety, the most refined and educated appetites may be propitiated: Jo. Banfill's Magnolia Whisky; Steamboat do.; Columbian X, XX and XXX; Golden Horn do X's; Imperial Crescent do.; Tennessee White double X and tripple X; Planter's Friend, all the X's; Golden Medal Bourbon; Three Star XXX; Crown Anchor, all the X's; Sportsman's Favorite, all the X's; Robinson County, V. A. Brown's Monongahela; Royal Bourbon, and Winchester Rye. One would think, in such variety of corn and rye juice, all sorts of tastes might discover adaptability. Then there are other items of the catalogue to which special attention may be called, including Cognac, Holland's Cordial Gin, New Orleans Rum, Jamaica, Imperial Bitters and Ginger Wine. Not being an adept as a taster, we can only express the confidence we repose in the character of the house of Jo. Banfill & Co., and assure retail dealers that they can be accommodated there on the best terms and with reasonable dispatch, for the reason that the elevated standing of the gentlemen who constitute this firm, forbids aught that could be construed into the slightest chicanery of trade. They have the very best that can be found in the market, and their sales are made on high principles. This, then, is the house for where purchases for home consumption should be made, with the full conviction that the purchases are pure, and will fully realize all the inducements held out. It is an evidence of Memphis enterprise that so extensive and thorough an establishment should be located here—one containing the finest brands of foreign vintages and the most desirable of home manufacture. When social life almost demands that abstinence shall not be observed, notwithstanding the efforts of philanthropists to the contrary, it is a sine qua non that the stimulants should be pure. He who would purchase jewelry from a peddler, without himself being a connoisseur and knowing its true value, might naturally expect to be cheated, and the prudent man indulges in no such luxury unless he buy from some established craftsman, whose position inspires confidence. In the same way, the purchaser of stimulating fluids should consult his interests and those who are his customers, by supplying his stock from a source he is bound, from every circumstance, to believe is pure and undefiled. Here, Jo. is your very good health. We shall certainly call at No. 3 Bradley Block.

THURSDAY, June 20, 1867.

BUSINESS—WEATHER—RIVERS.

The weather yesterday was clear and warm. The river here is declining at the rate of a foot in every twenty-four hours. The Ohio is receding slowly, with six feet in the canal. At Cairo and St. Louis the river is falling slowly. White and Arkansas rivers are receding, with a fair stage in each.

BOATS IN PORT.

Belle St. Louis, Golden Eagle, Florence Traber, Empire.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Business on the wharf, yesterday, was exceedingly dull, though there were large piles of freight on the levee, which had been discharged from the Cincinnati packets. Shipments to the Arkansas river are quite light.

The Nyanza, from Mobile to Montgomery, sunk on the Alabama river, eighteen miles above Mobile, on Friday evening. The boat was valued at $25,000 and was not insured. Her cargo consisted of supplies for the poor people in the interior, among which were three hundred sacks of corn. Cargo worth $25,000, and is partially insured. The Nyanza was built at Pittsburg.

The Cincinnati Enquirer of Sunday reports twenty-three boats in port, and but one—the Louisville mailboat—advertised to leave on that day. Either times are dull up there, or the boatmen were observing the Sabbath.

Tom Waters, a deck hand on the Princess, walked overboard from that steamer, on Sunday night, at St. Louis, and was drowned.

A passenger named John Jones, in passing from the lower deck of the Importer to that of the Sucker State, at St. Louis, fell overboard and was drowned. Deceased was from near Shawneetown, Illinois, and bound to Minnesota, with his family. He had on his person, when drowned, a large amount of money.

The famous steamer, the Great Republic, leaves St. Louis to-day for New Orleans, and will leave here on Saturday at five p.m.

The P. W. Strader was to have left Louisville last evening for New Orleans.

Captain Ben. Davidson has bought one-third of the Sherman at Cincinnati.

The locks at Rochester, on Green river, are broken. The steamer Wm. White is caught above, and it will take two weeks to repair.

The New Albany Ledger says the work on Captain Sam. Montgomery's great lightning steamer Dexter is being pushed ahead vigorously. When completed, she will be the queen of the New Orleans fleet.

The Indiana is being refitted up and painted at Portland.

The Liberty No. 2 will probably resume her trips in the Louisville trade, and leave that city on Saturday for this port.

A vessel with a valuable cargo was seized for smuggling at St. Marks, Florida, a few days since. The Captain could show no manifest or invoice when called upon to do so.

The St. Louis Republican says the Imperial is on her way to that port with four empty barges to take a cargo of 130,000 bushels of wheat to Prairie du Chien, from whence it will be transported by rail to Milwaukee. This wheat was brought to St. Louis some months since, and has been held for a fabulous price.

C. Harlan, a well known engineer on the lower Ohio and Mississippi, was drowned on Saturday from the steamer Hornier, above Evansville.

The R. E. Lee arrived yesterday at noon from Evansville with a fair trip, including 6,000 sacks of corn and 100 hhds tobacco. She added here 300 bales cotton, 60 hhds tobacco and some miscellaneous freight, and cleared at eight p.m.

The steamer Rubicon, Captain Blake, will leave the city wharf-boat to-day at five p.m., for Vicksburg and all way points in the bends. Mr. Alf. Grissom is her clever and attentive clerk.

The Gleaner cleared for Little Rock last evening with a splendid trip of freight and passengers.

The Golden Eagle, Captain Ben. Merrelies, arrived from Cincinnati yesterday morning, with a fair cargo of produce. She returns to Cincinnati to morrow at five p.m. Captain Lawrence Carter presides in the office.

The fine steamer Louisville, Captain Ross, passed up yesterday for Louisville with a splendid trip of passengers. We return thanks to her amiable Captain for past favors.

The Anna backed out for Cincinnati at seven p.m. with a good trip, including two hundred tons of old iron.

The Empire is advertised to leave for Louisville to-day at five p.m.

The Victor, for Hailie's Point, backed with a good bend trip.

The Belle St. Louis, Captain Zeigler, arrived from St. Louis last evening with a fair trip. She returns to-day at five p.m.

The Florence Traber is advertised to leave for Little Rock to-morrow evening.

The Princess will leave the Star wharf-boat today at twelve m. for the Arkansas river and all way points.

REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE.

[From our Correspondent by the Way.]

FRIEND DUFFY: Why don't you extend your trip for items to the "Devil's Elbow," the "Black Crook" of the Old Muddy, twenty knots around and one and a half through. High water, with all its submerged horrors, can't "wet down" the spirit of its people, or stop the "gay and festive" from a hop when the occasion offers. The Victor No. 2 is in the trade semi-weekly, prompt as a clock, regular as dinner time and as clever as the old squatter to Colonel Faulkner, who played the balance of "that tune." The June rise is still on the toilers of the soil. Cotton, the monarch plant, is taking its fourth baptism, and corn will soon take its place for a crop, and a season engagement with "Ceres" must be affected. "Panola" has closed her engagement with a bad season and faded bloom. The idea of summer forbids her stay, and a complimentary benefit from the "Bureau" and uncle "Ben" won't pay. The west may look for corn on the "trodden down" fields of Dixie; the crisis has demanded it, and the flood of waters up to date has made it an "agricultural necessity." The citizens of North Crittenden and South Mississippi counties are anxious to curtail the two hundred miles front, and make a new county of their own, with Cottonwood Point for headquarters. The move is a good one. "Osceola" represents Mississippi—Marion and Crittenden counties; "Helena," Phillips; and "Lake Village" Chicot. We would suggest "Cottonwood Point" for the new town of the new county. The owner of this site is willing to donate the ground requisite for the new burg. "Albert Pike county" in compliment to the State's warrior, statesman, poet and editor, meets with the general approval of the sov pople. The terminus north to be "Barney's bayou," embracing the rich highlands of the McGavocks, and extending south to "Greenock Bend." The people ask for all the benefits as a reward for their taxation—good levees and schools, navigable roads, will alone reclaim Arkansas. "The coon skin and dug-out" age asks for advancement. This is her medium pressed on you, in the absence of a press to press her own rights through. The natives at the old plantation, from old Massa still at home to "Uncle Tom," look with pleasure for the "Victor" and the AVALANCHE. This packet has a "house" of her own, and a worthy household for its staff. John Grehan, of the Appeal, has her office, whose local claims are "at par"—legal tenders always acceptable to the people.

Harkie Bend, from Bateman's to the foot of Thirty-six, represent the D Bow in its grand circuit.

In a happy time, with "all aboard," and with good wishes to you and your AVALANCHE—

Long may your waves
With your own standard sheet;
The pride of the brave,
Which thousands do greet.

"Galloway" bold is on your deck,
"McClusky" watches, she cannot wreck;
A "Rice" light the wave and earth,
And "Hampton" shouts, "A Duff! a Duff!"

With yours truly,
Arkansas traveler,
WHETSTONE, JR.

Messrs. Levy & Miller have been awarded, by the Board of Aldermen, the privilege of placing at the landing a wharf-boat.

Captain Wm. Johnson, of the Star wharf-boat, returned home yesterday, from Louisville. Captain Billy was hard at work last evening filling out the Lee.

St. Louis exchanges of Tuesday has the following:

The river fell about two feet since Sunday evening. This is a rapid decline under the circumstances. A good stage of water is assured for several successive weeks. There cannot now be any fears of a freshet at this point. Business was very quiet on the wharf yesterday. There will not be much stir before the new crops are being shipped to market. It was decided at the boatmen's meeting to leave the subject of freight rates undisturbed. There is competing tonnage to New Orleans the Missouri, and to the upper Mississippi. That being the case it follows that rates will be low this week; very low we fear. Tonnage is increasing in port by the return of the mountain boats. We learn that there is a light touch of competition for Vicksburg freights between the White river line and the Atlantic line. Weather fine.

The Cincinnati Commercial of Tuesday has the following:

At a meeting of the C. C. M. Association, held yesterday, a new form of bill of lading and dray ticket was adopted, to take effect on and after the 16th day of August. The new bill of lading takes the exception of explosion and collision, and the privilege of reshipping, stowing, or lighter and towing in the Ohio river. The Magnolia Company contemplates building a new side wheel packet for the Maysville trade, to be ready for the forthcoming season. An interesting little daughter of Captain R. S. Yerkes, of the steamer Bertha, died in Covington, Kentucky, on Sunday last.

The Louisville Courier, of Tuesday, says:

The river was about at a stand, or slowly swelling yesterday, with six feet two inches in the canal in the evening by the mark. During the previous twenty-four hours it had risen about an inch at the head of the falls, and three inches at Portland. The river commerce and trade is essentially dull here, as well as elsewhere, and quite a number of boats have been compelled to tie up. In the face of this fact, and in order to keep up the river communications and enable the boats still in commission to make living rates, owing to the scarcity of freights, it must be admitted that it was a judicious movement to slightly enhance the rates. The Westmoreland came in from Cincinnati yesterday, bound for New Orleans, and took the canal chute. Although but half laden, she was drawing all the water in the canal, and stirred up the mud as she plowed her way through. Two barges, supposed to be a portion of the tow of the J. W. Garrett, are in the canal basin, laid up. On the falls last evening there were four feet two inches water in the pass down the Indiana chute, and the river about stationary.

Captain A. McVay, the popular and accommodating freight clerk of the R. E. Lee, stopped off here last evening, and leaves this morning for Cairo to attend to some business of the boats. Captain Mc. is a social and hightoned gentleman and noted for his urbanity and courtesy. We hope his stay in Cairo will be pleasant.

In our notice of the steamer Mary Swan, alias the Stone River, it was not our intention to cast any reflections on her owners, as we know them to be merchants of high standing and spirited business men, and feel satisfied that the financial condition of the boat is O K. We based our notice on remarks made by her clerk.

PROCEEDINGS OF MEETING TO REMOVE CONFEDERATE DEAD

AT

Iuka, Mississippi, May 27, 1867.

AT a meeting of the citizens of Iuka, Tishomingo county, State of Mississippi, the Honorable J. D. Martin was called to the chair, and Professor T. J. Norcom to act as Secretary, who explained the object of the meeting to be the adoption of suitable measures for removing the remains of the Confederate dead, interred at various places in the town, to an appropriate cemetery.

After some very appropriate and touching remarks by D. N. Cayce upon this duty, both of respect to the dead, to the feelings of their mourning friends, and to our town, Dr. J. A. Powell moved that a committee be appointed by the Chairman to report suitable resolutions embodying the best plan for carrying out the object of the meeting. Whereupon the following gentlemen were appointed on the committee: Messrs. D. N. Cayce, R. W. Price, J. M. Coman, Dr. J. S. Davis, A. T. Mathews, Dr. J. A. Powell, J. C. Holeman, Colonel J. L. Moore and A. W. Patterson.

On motion of Major Coman, the Chairman of the meeting was made chairman of the committee, and Colonel R. W. Price was elected treasurer, to receive and disburse all funds used for this purpose.

At an adjourned meeting at 5 o'clock p.m., the committee reported the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we believe it to be the duty of all good citizens to respect their dead by giving a decent interment to their remains in suitable grounds consecrated to that purpose; and, whereas, there are about two hundred Confederate soldiers of whom four-fifths are Missourians, buried on private property near the hotel and at various places within the corporate limits of Iuka.

Resolved, That we desire to have them removed and interred in the Shady Grove Cemetery, near the southeast corner of the town of Iuka, already consecrated as a burying ground.

Resolved, That Dr. Wm. M. Willson be, and is hereby authorized to remove and inter them in Shady Grove Cemetery as speedily as possible, according to the following specifications, viz.: The remains of each one to be placed in a plain box, of suitable length, width and depth, made of new plank, and that small head and foot boards bearing such inscriptions as he may obtain, to mark their final resting place.

Resolved, That the sum of one thousand dollars will be a fair and just consideration to be paid for said removal and interment, and that Dr. Wm. M. Willson be and is hereby authorized to collect said amount by private subscription, or by collecting donations from the public in any manner most expeditious to the completion of the work; and that all funds must be first directed to the treasurer, Colonel R. W. Price, to be by him received and paid over to the said Willson as fast as collected until the full amount of one thousand dollars has been paid.

Resolved, That as the good citizens of Iuka have been very liberal in attending on the sick and wounded in hospital and burying the dead, that we solicit from our friends elsewhere pecuniary aid for defraying the expenses of this work.

Resolved, That we regard Dr. Wm. M. Willson a high toned Christian gentleman, and hereby cordially recommend him to the kind attention and consideration of all whom he may visit or communicate with in his effort to raise funds for this laudable purpose.

Resolved, That a copy of the proceedings of this meeting be forwarded to the Iuka, Memphis and St. Louis papers, with the request for publication.

Which are unanimously adopted.

J. D. MARTIN, Chairman.
T. J. NORCOM, Secretary. je19

WEDNESDAY'S AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

The Registration System in Alabama.

The Trial of Maximilian Postponed.

Texan Judges Refuse Negro Evidence.

MOBILE, June 19.—Registration commenced here yesterday. One hundred and fifty registered, twenty-three whites and one hundred and twenty-seven negroes.

AUGUSTA, GA., June 19.—Registration of voters in the Eighteenth Senatorial district was commenced to-day at one precinct in the outskirts of the city. One hundred and sixty-eight voters were registered—one hundred and fifty-eight blacks and ten whites.

RICHMOND, June 19.—Judge H. H. Lyons died yesterday.

Registration yesterday show the whites to be five ahead. At Norfolk on the first day 449 were registered, whereof 397 were negroes.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Advices from Queretaro to the 1st instant state that the trial of Maximilian, Miramon and Marquez was nominally postponed till June 4th, really until after the fall of the city of Mexico and Vera Cruz. Maximilian is in better health and hopeful.

Judge Rives, of the Ninth Judicial District of Texas, and Judge Dougherty, also of Texas, in charge to the grand jury, stated that they should not receive the testimony of negroes, as the law of Congress on the subject is unconstitutional.

ANOTHER CASE OF DOG EAT DOG.

The "Press and Times" on a Radical Candidate for Congress.

The riproaring, ranting, disorganizing aspirant for Congress, D. H. Mason, late editor of a rebel newspaper at Rome, Georgia, came to sudden grief at Franklin on last Saturday, where he had an appointment to speak. After he finished his harangue, in which he denounced Mr. Trimble as running on the Etheridge platform, and promised that he would give the negroes forty acres apiece of confiscated land, together with all the houses and town lots which they might pick out for themselves, General James P. Brownlow took the stand, and informed the audience that the man who had just addressed them was a bushwhacker, and had served in the rebel army at Rome, Georgia. He then turned to Mason, who stood trembling in the crowd, and asked him if he did not enlist in the rebel army, and if he was not discharged in 1864. Mason, with great confusion and embarrassment, confessed that he had been a rebel soldier. General Brownlow then asked him if he did not edit a violent rebel newspaper at Rome, in 1862. Mason again, with great embarrassment, confessed the charge. His partisans in the crowd were thunderstruck at this exposure, and showed strong symptoms of disgust and indignation. But poor Mason's sorrows had just begun, for as he was walking off crestfallen and discomfited, a young man, named Pope, came up to him and asked him if he (Mason) did not, some years ago, break open a trunk of his [illegible] and steal money from it. Mason, in the presence of twenty persons, confessed the theft. Mr. Pope again asked Mason if he was not expelled from college at Marysville, Tennessee, for stealing money from his fellow students. Mason admitted that he was guilty, but said that he had repented and was now a remarkably honest man.

The followers of Mason, at Franklin, feeling outraged at the gross deception he has practiced upon them, are dropping him rapidly. Yesterday Mason was approached by a gentleman on our streets, and in the presence of Abram Smith, Buck Lewis, Ali. Watkins, T. A. Kerchival and several others, confessed that he had committed three different thefts, but claimed that he had since repented and reformed. In consequence of these developments the stock of the disorganizer has experienced a sudden fall in the market. We leave the followers to their reflections for the present, and will make some further revelations in a few days.

SHAMEFUL BULLYING.

Some of Brownlow's Pups Want Blood! But are Very Careful not to Spill Their Own.

[From the Nashville Gazette of Sunday.]

Last evening some of Brownlow's minions set on Joe Williams in Mr. Menifee's store on Broad street, on the plea that they wanted a discussion with him. The clerk informed them that he could not allow of such a thing in his store. Still they persisted, and gradually becoming more wrathy, they betrayed their real intent and declared that they wanted blood! The clerk said he didn't keep the article—they couldn't get it there—perhaps they might find it on the street. Williams, appreciating the situation, prepared himself for them, and made it evident that if they wanted blood, they could have it. On seeing this the cowards simmered down, ingloriously and sneaked off.

After night they appeared again in close vicinity to Williams' eating saloon, poking around like bats for awhile in the dark, but whatever might have been their intentions their courage oozed out at their finger ends, and they sneaked off as they came, without doing any mischief. These petty bullies should be looked after by the police.

The Nashville Union and Dispatch learns from a Decatur (Alabama) telegram that during the terrible thunder storm of Saturday, Miss Mattie Banks, daughter of Colonel Banks, of that place, was struck by lightning while asleep on the sofa near the fire place in her room. Her clothes were nearly all torn from her body, which was terribly blackened and bruised. When her situation was discovered, she was utterly unconscious, and up to five o'clock yesterday she showed scarcely any signs of life. There is no probability that she will recover, so great are her injuries. She was alone in the room at the time of the occurrence.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

[CONCLUDED.]

PETITIONS.

By Alderman Bolling:

To the Honorable Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Memphis:

GENTLEMEN—Your petitioners beg to represent that they desire and pray you to grant the privilege of opening an alley, or extending the alley between Court and Madison streets to the [illegible].

Your petitioners would call your attention to the fact that drays using the present alley destroy all the fencing in turning their drays, and the alley in its present condition is of no use [illegible]. [illegible] the only property holder [illegible], agree to give the right of way.

[Signed by all the property holders on south side of Court and north side of Madison.]

MEMPHIS, June 18th, 1867.

Referred to Improvement Committee.

By the same:

To the Honorable Board of Mayor and Aldermen:

GENTS: Your petitioners beg to represent that they furnished the city with coal during last winter, to the amount of twenty-five hundred and six dollars and [illegible], which they [illegible] in scrip, after deducting the amount of wharfage due the city, say three hundred and ninety dollars, making the amount due us [illegible] [illegible] and one-half cents on the dollar, [illegible]. Now your petitioners beg and earnestly request you, upon principles of justice, to allow the sum so, which is justly due us; and your petitioners will ever pray.

BRIGGS & PETERSON.

Referred to Finance Committee.

By Alderman Townsend:

To the Honorable Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Memphis:

Your petitioner, William F. Hardin, a citizen of Shelby county and State of Tennessee, would respectfully represent, that he is the owner, by regular assignment, of lots 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24, in the addition of the city of Memphis, known as the Navy Yard, and that the rent due the city on said lots has been paid in full to the present time. He would further show that said lots were leased by the city in 1857, for a term of near thirty years, and that said leases have, from time to time, with the consent of the city, been assigned to various parties, until at last they were sold, transferred and assigned to your petitioner for a valuable consideration. Said leases have never been spread on the Records of the Register of Shelby county, and from a lapse of time, there will be some difficulty in obtaining such a probate of said original leases as would make the registration perfect and complete (Thomas B. Carroll, formerly Mayor, who joins in said leases, being now dead). In view of this, petitioner prays that he be permitted to deliver up said leases for cancellation, and that your Hon. Board direct and authorize the Mayor to execute and deliver to your Petitioner, new leases of said lots for the remainder of the terms, embodying the terms and conditions of the original leases.

WILLIAM F. HARDIN.

Referred to Finance Committee and City Attorney to adjust.

By the same:

To the honorable Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Memphis:

GENTLEMEN: On or about the 3d day of April last, your City Purveyor purchased a bill of groceries from me, for the City Hospital, amounting to $[illegible]. I was informed that the bill would be paid in cash, and was so instructed to make it out. Upon application to your Controller for the amount of my bill, in accordance with the contract, I was informed that he was only authorized to issue the amount in city scrip, which, if received by me, would be the occasion of a considerable loss to me on my goods.

The premises considered, your petitioner asks that the proper order be made to pay me for my goods according to contract, for my goods, as they were furnished at small profit, and upon the same terms that they would have been delivered to any other cash customer.

Respectfully,
JOHN NEWSOM.

Referred to Finance Committee to adjust.

By the same:

To the Honorable Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Memphis:

The undersigned, citizens and tax payers, respectfully represent to your honorable body, that they own a large amount of property along the river front, [illegible], and on which they have [illegible] paid taxes, and are still willing to do so. But we claim that it is the duty and interest of the city to protect our property against the caving in of the river banks, that the city has a source of revenue to the city, and valuable to the owners. [illegible] the wharf, in the bottom, and [illegible] protection, it will soon be lost to the city forever. This property protected would increase in value, and be a lasting income to the city for all time.

The city has spent her millions to build a wharf. Will she now allow it to wash away and all this valuable property on the bottom lost, and have to pay five times as much to build a new wharf as it would now cost to secure the old one? It is very evident to all those that are acquainted with the caving condition of the landing, that if something is not done to stop it, all the bottom in front of the city, including the steamboat wharf, will be washed away, as it is now fast falling into the river. We are assured by experienced river men that this bank cannot only be secured but largely increased. The wharf receipts are intended by all cities as a fund to build, improve and keep in repair the bank or wharf in front of the city.

In view of all the above facts, your petitioners feel they cannot too strongly urge the importance of the immediate action for the protection of this property. The increased value of this property would soon repay the city threefold the amount that it would now require to protect it. Your petitioners respectfully pray your honorable body to appropriate so much of the wharf receipts as may be necessary to secure the bank from caving, and save this valuable property before it is too late. As they are in duty bound will ever pray.

By Alderman Passmore:

To the Honorable Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Memphis:

GENTLEMEN: We, the undersigned citizens of the Eighth Ward, or that portion lying north of Robinson street and to Raleigh road, would most respectfully represent and show to your honorable body, the necessity of at once placing and constructing a bridge over [illegible] where it crosses [illegible] [illegible]. [illegible] with regret the late and melancholy accident which befell the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smithey, an old and estimable citizen of this ward, that, when returning from school, on the evening of the 14th instant, and while crossing that stream, running east and west, and forming a tributary to the Bayou Gayoso, where a plank is the only substitute for a bridge, death ended her career by her being precipitated in the then gorged stream.

It is a grievous fact to know that so much carelessness and negligence is manifested by those whose duty it is to see and look after such deficiencies, where life and property are in imminent peril.

The expense of such a structure would indeed be trifling compared with the loss of a lovely and interesting child, and the vacuum which is left in the parents' household.

The travel by pedestrians over the above place is indeed immense, more particularly since the settlement of what is recently known as Belfast has been created, that is, the extension of [illegible] and Winchester street to Raleigh road.

Will your honorable body give this matter your early and prompt attention, and thus prevent a recurrence of the above calamitous and melancholy occurrence.

And as in duty bound will ever pray.

THOS. E. SHARP, Gen'l Sup't.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the public to this wonderful Steam Engine, now on exhibition at the

Avalanche Office, 22 Jefferson Street,

Which is cheaper, lighter, less intricate, occupies less space, consumes less fuel than any other engine, and is superior in every other way, it being in fact a double cut-off engine, without the friction of a double set of valves with their multiform attachments, and for its superior merits was

AWARDED THE GOLD MEDAL

At the Maryland Institute Fair, in October, 1866, over all other engines. This invention, therefore, forms the most radical and entire change in steam engines which has occurred since the days of Watts, being durable, accurate, and economical in operation and space beyond all comparison with the past, and at far less original cost than ever before attained. All orders will be promptly filled by

THE CHINGARORA

ANTI-NERVOUS

SMOKING TOBACCO

THE CHINGARORA TOBACCO grows from the rich soil of the "ORIENT," and is possessed of a peculiarly delicious flavor entirely unknown to the tobaccos of all other climes. But its unprecedented popularity has sprung from the fact of the entire absence of that deadly poison Nicotin, which permeates every other tobacco, and which is the one and the sure producer of the distressing nervous diseases, dyspepsia, etc., which most invariably, sooner or later, follow the indulgence of the pipe and cigar. At the recent analization of tobacco from all parts of the world, at the Academy of Sciences in Paris, the renowned [illegible], declared that while European and American tobacco contained fully eight per cent, and the purest Havana from two to five per cent. of Nicotin, the CHINGARORA did not contain one discoverable particle of that deadly poison, a drop of which, extracted, will destroy life.

[illegible] shipped enormous quantities of the CHINGARORA during the past two years, and although we have been pressed to supply the demand for this delicious luxury to the veteran smoker, yet we are now prepared to offer it in unlimited quantities, at a price much lower than some American tobacco of a far inferior quality.

American tobacco has but to smoke the American tobacco and [illegible] with the unhealthy taste, which leaves a [illegible] coating in the mouth, and in time seldom fails to shatter the nervous system.

The natives of the "ORIENT" smoke the CHINGARORA from morn till night, from youth to age, and are happily unconscious of the wild, distressing fire which courses through the veins of the inhaler of the fumes of tobacco containing Nicotin.

We invite every lover of the weed to try the CHINGARORA, and guarantee unprecedented pleasure in its delicious flavor.

ASTROLOGY.

THE WORLD ASTONISHED

At the wonderful revelations made by the great Astrologist

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

SHE reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, etc., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, inclosing a small lock of hair.
